

THE BUILD & DEFEND SERIES

BUILDING IN BABYLON

A SMALL GROUP BIBLE STUDY SERIES

Introduction

In a world where secularism seems to be on the rise and the values of faith face increasing challenges, the task of building disciples and sharing the message of Jesus Christ becomes more critical than ever. The early believers in the Apostolic era faced their own set of challenges but remained steadfast in their commitment to the doctrine of the Apostles. Today, we draw inspiration and guidance from their unwavering faith as we seek to evangelize and disciple in a secular era.

This small group Bible study series, based on the insights of Evangelist Ismael and Sister Sarahi Montoya, explores three key challenges that impact us all in the process of disciple-making:

- Session 1: The Power of Pre-Evangelism - Discover the importance of building relationships and creating safe spaces for spiritual conversations.
- Session 2: Careful Cultural Exegesis - Learn how to navigate cultural differences respectfully, fostering collaboration with diverse perspectives.
- Session 3: The Sin Underneath the Sin - Address the root causes of sin in our lives and guide others toward transformation through God's love.
- Session 4: Building Meaningful Relationships - Explore practical ways to build deeper connections with people, leading to meaningful faith discussions.
- Session 5: The Ultimate Reward - Reflect on the rewards of patience and perseverance in discipleship, shaping the kind of disciples God raises within our communities.

As we embark on this small group Bible study journey, may we be equipped with the tools and insights to engage thoughtfully and empathetically with the world around us.

Our mission is not to retreat from our beliefs but to make a profound difference in a secular age, sharing the message of Jesus Christ with a world in need of His hope and salvation. Let's begin our exploration of these vital topics and prepare to make a lasting impact in our changing world.
